Summary

This page previously contained information about the LIDC-IDRI supporting data and software. This content has been consolidated to the Data from The Lung Image Database Consortium (LIDC) and Image Database Resource Initiative (IDRI): A completed reference database of lung nodules on CT scans (LIDC-IDRI) page. Please note that many attachments to this page are still being referenced from the LIDC-IDRI page and older publications may reference this page so it should not be deleted.
